DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3, 4, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Reed.

Reed discloses a conductor device (28), a first plastic component (38), a second molded plastic component (36)(col. 5, lines 4-6), wherein the conductor device is bendable about 90 degrees (Fig 3) such that the first plastic component engage the second plastic component by snap-in locking device (latch 54)(Fig 12) to provide an integral contacting component (Fig 13) (re claims 1, 3, 4, 12).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 2, 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reed in view of Casali et al

The teaching as discussed above does not disclose a bending collar

Casali et al disclose a bending collar (16, 19) for supporting conductor device.

Art Unit: 2831

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include the bending collar with the contact assembly of Reed for the purpose of supporting the conductor device.
